How do you want to live out life in the most meaningful way for you and your family, both personally and financially?

- Together, we'll discuss the spiritual journey of the need to make decisions about your assets and the impact those assets can have now and following your death. We'll talk about how you can truly make a difference in the life, mission and ministry of your congregation and any other area of the Church that you deeply care about. Janice will examine the types of gifts one can make, some of the tax benefits associated with making a gift. More importantly this seminar is designed to empower you to give to those areas in your life that are most meaningful to you – where you've lived out your spiritual and life values.
- A short exercise and reflection will take place and some participation will be appreciated. Questions and answers will happen throughout our time together. Handouts on gift types will be provided.

This seminar is supported by gifts to
